The artist

Husson-Dumoutier is born in Provence. He is a UNESCO artist for Peace and his work is exhibited in several international museums and great private collections. Travelling all around the world, he tries to emphasize the beauties of countries, temples and towns he has visited. He loves poetry.

He introduces light into his paintings and cristal sculptures by using sands pure pigments and gold into the colours that he creates himself.

The exhibition

The soul of Méditerranée

The Mediterranean Sea is at the origin of the Occidental civilization. Monotheism has been created from Egypt to Islam, through Judaism and Christianity.

“Mare Nostrum” is also the melting pot of philosophy, music, architecture and poetry.

This exhibition tries to show the diversity of the Mediterranean soul and atmosphere through 300 paintings and sculptures. The various aspects of the towns, landscapes, temples, persons are studied and presented.

Each painting is entitled and is constituted with several coats and each coat has got a signification.

There is no systemic presentation. It is only a dream that the painter intends to reveal.
